FEAST OF PURIM BEGINS TO-NIGHT

Commemorates the Success of the Jews in Days of Old.

The feast of Purim, one of the most ancient of Hebrew festivals, will begin at sundown of to-day, when the "Maggila," or book of Esther will be read. The custom which makes to-day "Thannas Esther," or a day of fast, was introduced into Palestine much later than the Purim feast, which itself has been considered by some scholars as originally a Persian festival, connected in Hebrew history with the story of Esther and of Mordecai. During the reign of the Persian King, Artaxerxes, he captured Jericho and carried many Hebrews away with him into captivity. Esther, a Jewish maiden, became his wife, but her parentage was kept a secret on account of the hatred between the races. A few years after her marriage, the King, under the influence of his favorite, the corrupt Haman, issued an edict condemning to death on the 13th day of the month Adar all the Jews in Persia and confiscating their property. Through the influence of Esther and Mordecai, however, Haman was defeated, and, with his ten sons, explained his crimes on the gallows. The edict against the Jews could not be revoked, but it was put into execution the Hebrews were prepared to resist and defend themselves. In memory of their success in so doing the 14th day of Adar was made a holiday. It was given the name Purim on account of the lots which Haman had cast. The 13th day became a festival also called Shushan Purim, because the Hebrews at that time had made of it a special day of feasting.

Dr. G. W. Le Cato, the State Senator from the Eastern Shore, is confined to his rooms at Ford's Hotel. He is not by any means an ill man, but he is very much indisposed.

MR. COGBILL WILL BE HEARD TO-DAY

His Resolution in Regard to the Election of Senators the Special Order.

There will come up in the Senate to-day as the special order the resolution offered by Mr. Cogbill, of Chesterfield, memorializing Congress to call a convention under the provisions of article five of the Constitution of the United States to amend the Constitution so as to make the United States Senators elective by the people.

Mr. Cogbill has been thoroughly enthused in this matter. It has been a thing he has been fighting for during several years. He is prepared to advocate the adoption of his resolution in the very strongest terms.

It should be stated in this connection that when Mr. Halsey, of Lynchburg, a few days ago moved to refer this matter to a committee, he withdrew his motion, and it was not defeated.

THE INEBRIATE BILL FAVORABLY REPORTED

The House Committee on Asylums and Prisons last night favorably reported the bill of Senator J. N. Harman, of Tazewell, to allow the friends of habitual drunkards to have the latter placed in sanitariums when they shall have become so far addicted to the use of liquor or drugs as to lose control of themselves. The bill has already passed the Senate. The bill was amended in some immaterial respects, so as to perfect it, but no disposition was shown to defeat it in committee, although a number of questions were asked by members for information. Mr. Frank W. Christian, of this city, appeared, along with other prominent professional men and laymen, for the bill.

A SUMAC SUIT

New Jersey Firm Complains of Virginia Dirt and Rock.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CARTERSVILLE, Va., March 11.—Quite an interesting trial was in progress at Ashby last week. G. F. Sanders, who does a general mercantile business there, had shipped a carload of sumac to New Jersey, and received a letter from the firm stating that half of the actual weight of the sumac was dirt and rocks, and that the carload was at his disposal. An investigation had to be made, but it proved almost useless. When the sumac was weighed, it was found that it was brought to trial before Magistrate Peter Hoot and B. M. England, with Commonwealth's Attorney Paul McFae for prosecuting attorney and Captain John A. Booker counsel for defense.

The tobacco, tanning and shipping tobacco, engaged in packing and receiving being about over. On account of the low prices in tobacco the farmers of this section are planning to curtail their crops considerably this year.

Miss Carrie Sneed, of Fork Union, is visiting at the home of her brother, Dr. N. P. Sneed, of this place.

The league is pretty well satisfied with the Gordon amendment, feeling that a race at six miles an hour would be rather all right. But the league is not sure the Council to which it is looking with rather anxious eyes.

"We are satisfied with the amendment, if we can get it enforced," said the Rev. W. S. Campbell, secretary of the league. "The trouble will be to get it enforced. We are willing to believe, however, that the police will do their duty. We intend to bring great pressure to bear upon the Council. We are afraid that the amendment may be turned down there, but that, meanwhile, the speedway will be allowed to remain open on Sunday."
